ABOUT

ABOUT THE JOY OF NOT COOKING

Since its inception in 1998 with the delivery of frozen soups and casserole dishes, the Joy of Not Cooking provided meals, cocktail and dinner parties, holiday gatherings and receptions. After a four-year hiatus in North Carolina, proprietor Ellen Thompson has returned to Atlanta and is available to help you with your culinary needs.

Please let us know how we can make your weeknight suppers easy and your special events go smoothly with our attention to details. All of our ingredients are the best we can obtain and are organically grown or produced whenever possible. Everything is made from scratch—no shortcuts! We know you will welcome our take on classic dishes and home-cooking favorites.

IN THE BEGINNING

- For this project, I was looking for a client who needed a website for a business
- Not just another portfolio page
- Ellen is a friend of my mom
- Had emailed and talked on the phone with said client

AFTER THOUGHTS

- Learned that it is easy to design something
- Not as easy to translate to code, this was challenging
- I would demand more of the client
- Hope that Ellen can really use the website the way she wants
- Unsure though
